Law360 Competition Editorial Advisory Board

Law360, New York (February 21, 2014, 1:45 PM ET) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2014 Competition editorial advisory board.

The purpose of the editorial advisory board is to get feedback on Law360's coverage and to gain insight from experts in the field on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of the 2014 Competition Law360 editorial advisory board are:

Gregory Ascioffa, Labaton Sucharow LLP

Gregory Ascioffa is co-chair of Labaton Sucharow's antitrust and competition litigation practice. He represents businesses and public pension funds in complex antitrust and commodities class actions. Currently, Ascioffa is representing clients in several global antitrust matters involving alleged price-fixing and other anti-competitive practices. He is the chairman of the Horizontal Restraints Committee of the New York State Bar Association - Antitrust Committee.

Peter Barile, Grant & Eisenhofer PA

Peter Barile is senior counsel with Grant & Eisenhofer in New York. His practice focuses on federal multidistrict antitrust class actions, as well as other complex antitrust litigation and appeals. Barile publishes and speaks on antitrust issues and is otherwise active in the antitrust bar.

John Briggs, Axinn Veltrop & Harkrider LLP

John Briggs is co-chairman of Axinn's antitrust group. For three decades he has served as lead counsel for companies in the U.S., Europe and Asia in a variety of cartel matters, class actions, mergers, and the application of antitrust principles related to the use or abuse of intellectual property.

Charles Critchlow, Baker & McKenzie LLP

Charles Critchlow is a partner in Baker & McKenzie's New York office specializing in international competition matters. He has handled landmark export trade exemption cases in the U.S., India, South Africa and Brazil, foreign sovereign compulsion and class action litigation, and advised on a broad array of joint venture questions in multiple contexts.

Jamillia Ferris, Hunton & Williams LLP

Jamillia Ferris is a partner at Hunton & Williams. She focuses on antitrust and consumer protection counseling and federal/state government investigations. Prior to joining the firm, Ferris served in the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice as chief of staff, deputy chief of staff and counsel to the assistant attorney general.

Susan Foster, Perkins Coie LLP

Susan Foster is firmwide chair of Perkins Coie's antitrust, consumer protection and unfair competition group. Her practice focuses on antitrust and unfair competition litigation, state and federal investigations, counseling, and mergers and acquisition clearances in the U.S. and abroad.

Eric Grannon, White & Case LLP

Eric Grannon is a partner at White & Case where he helps clients with antitrust matters, including civil and criminal defense as well as counseling for mergers and acquisitions and settlements of pharmaceutical patent litigation. He returned to White & Case after serving as counsel to the assistant attorney general in charge of the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice.

Scott Martin, Greenberg Traurig LLP

Scott Martin is a shareholder in the litigation department of the New York office and a frequent speaker and writer on antitrust topics. His practice has spanned the landscape of competition-related claims — private and regulatory actions, competitor as well as consumer class actions, collective and unilateral conduct matters, and plaintiff and defense representations.

Ian Simmons, O'Melveny & Myers LLP

Ian Simmons is a partner in O'Melveny's Washington office and a member of the antitrust and competition practice. An alumnus of the U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust Division, Simmons has over 20 years of experience in antitrust litigation, with an emphasis on cartel class actions and matters involving intellectual property. Simmons was named one of Law 360's "2011 MVPs of the Year — Competition Practice."

Whitney Street, Block & Leviton LLP

Whitney Street, a partner at Block & Leviton, chairs the firm's antitrust department. She concentrates her practice on the representation of class plaintiffs in price fixing litigation. Additionally, she represents individual clients in claims arising from the monopolization and attempted monopolization of markets in a broad range of industries.

John Terzaken, Allen & Overy LLP

John Terzaken is a partner in the Washington office of Allen & Overy. He represents clients in antitrust investigations and litigation. His practice spans government enforcement and private litigation of antitrust infringements, sector investigations and compliance. Previously, Terzaken was director of criminal enforcement at the U.S. Department of Justice's Antitrust Division.

Joseph R. Tiffany, Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP

Joseph Tiffany, based in Silicon Valley, has represented clients in industrywide class actions, criminal and civil antitrust investigations, patent litigation involving antitrust claims, and the antitrust aspects of M&A matters. He also counsels clients on state and federal antitrust matters, such as developing and implementing antitrust compliance programs and conducting internal investigations that involve antitrust issues.

Darren Tucker, Bingham McCutchen LLP

Darren Tucker is an antitrust partner at Bingham McCutchen in Washington and also serves as the editorial chair of the Antitrust Source. His practice focuses on merger, technology, and health care investigations before antitrust agencies. He was previously attorney adviser to Commissioners Joshua D. Wright and J. Thomas Rosch at the Federal Trade Commission.

Michael Weiner, Dechert LLP

Michael Weiner, co-chair of Dechert's antitrust/competition group, provides strategic advice, resolves government merger and conduct investigations, and effectively litigates for clients with antitrust issues in a broad range of industries.
